TSUKÉMONO 漬物

Two-Session Pickling Workshop

Friday, June 14 6:30-8:30 pm SUPPER SESSION includes sampling

+

Saturday, June 15 10:30 am to 3:30 pm includes LUNCH + TAKE-HOME

Class size is limited to 6 participants to insure the most effective learning environment.

NOTE: Vegan menu options are available if you make your preference known at the time you register.

*Learn basic pickling methods: brining, sweet vinegar-curing, saké kasu, miso, and komé nuka-immersion. Our evening Supper Session combines a tasting of more than a dozen tsukémono classics with hands-on preparation of several quick-and-easy "Impatient Pickles." We also begin preparation of several other pickles to be completed the following day. Participants will make and take-home jars of amazu shōga (pink-pickled ginger) AND shiba-zuké (Kyoto-style purple eggplant and myōga) OR fukujin-zuké (Good Fortune Pickles). Registration form follows...

Registration

Thank you for your interest in joining A Taste of Culture culinary arts programs.
All programs are conducted in English and take place in Tokyo, Japan.

Payment in full is required to complete the registration process. You will be invoiced according to the information you provide. Invoices will come from PayPal and include the Taste of Culture logo. PayPal offers you the option of paying the invoice through your already established PayPal account or paying by credit card, if you prefer. Once PayPal has notified us of your payment, A Taste of Culture will issue a confirmation notice with local travel instructions.

GENERAL CANCELLATION POLICY: Should A Taste of Culture need to cancel any or all segments of a program, every effort will be made to re-schedule sessions at a mutually convenient time. If that is not possible, a full refund will be made promptly for sessions canceled by A Taste of Culture.

If an individual or group is unable to attend A Taste of Culture program for which they have already enrolled, that person or group may designate a substitute for him/her/them. No additional fees are charged to the participant (substitute attendee). Any financial arrangements made between the original participant and his/her/their substitute is at the discretion of the person originally enrolled. All requests to have a substitute attend a program, however, must be received by phone or e-mail at least 24 hours prior to the scheduled class meeting. When making such a request, please provide the full name and (local, Tokyo) contact phone number and e-mail address of each person who will be taking the place of the originally enrolled individual or group.

LIMITATIONS on LIABILITY: Every possible precaution is taken to ensure your personal safety and the safety of those in your group. However, registration for, and attendance at, all programs is subject to the following condition: the director and staff of A TASTE OF CULTURE, are released from, and specifically disclaim, all responsibilities for injuries or illness incurred traveling to and from sessions, during sessions, or resulting from food prepared at, or according to recipes distributed during, cooking & tasting sessions, market tours or other field trips, including restaurant meals. Should A Taste of Culture be prevented from performing its duties by reason of Force Majeure (including but not limited to war or natural disaster, such as earthquake) A Taste of Culture is released from its obligations.

NOTE: Tuition fees for cooking workshops, market tours and other field trips conducted by A Taste of Culture do NOT INCLUDE food & beverage not specifically mentioned in the program description. Tuition does NOT include the cost of local transportation. Any purchases made by participants during class, market tours or field trips are at the discretion of each participant. Participants in all programs are responsible for making arrangements for, and making payment for, their airfare, lodgings, and transportation to/from/within Japan. Participants are also responsible for obtaining and paying for any travel/trip/health insurance coverage they would like to have.

Please send your completed request-to-register form to: ANDOH@TASTEofCULTURE.com
